

60 PERCENT OF QUOTA REACHED IN WAR LOAN DRIVE

ARLINGTON WILL GET $23,431 FROM "EL"

Credit to Reduce Arlington Tax Rate By About 42 Cents

Record-Breaking Patronage Of Elevated Railway Makes Possible Credit To Town Instead Of Usual Deficit — Trustees Issue Annual Report

Arlington, which ordinarily has to appropriate a sum of money to make up the Boston Elevated Railway deficit, this year will receive approximately $23,431 from the Elevated because of profitable operation of the road during the past year.

This amount will make possible a reduction of approximately 42 cents on the present tax rate.

The welcome news was received by the selectmen on Monday, at which time a full report of last year's operations was submitted by the board of trustees.

Reporting that 1943 established a new all-time high in number of revenue passengers carried, the public trustees of the Boston Elevated in their annual report filed with the Legislature, announced that the railway had paid to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts $1,301,191.50 for distribution to the cities and towns in the area served in proportion to the amount which they have been assessed.

The trustees also made known that the railway had paid $228,614.42 to the City of Boston for the 1943 Governor Square Extension rental, which the railway has not been obligated to pay since the completion of this extension in 1932 because of insufficient income.

In the past, one-half of this annual rental has been met by the City of Boston and the balance has been paid by the Commonwealth and assessed upon all of the cities and towns served.

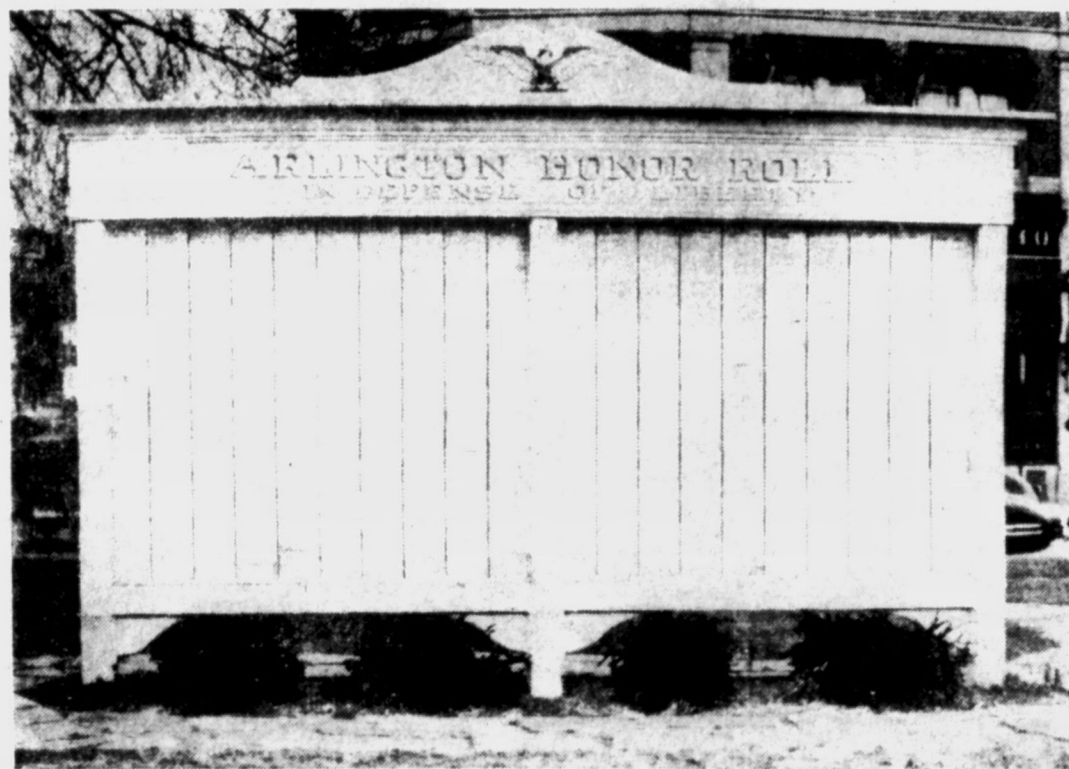

According to the report, 418,203-633 passengers were carried in 1943, which was 47,938,392 more than in 1942 and 37,186,295 more than in 1917, the railway's previous high year.

As of the end of last year, the trustees say, 23 women were working as conductors on two subway lines, 12 women as guards on the rapid transit trains and 26 women in various kinds of shop work.

More women will have to be employed to replace men, state the trustees, if the drafting of married men with children results in the withdrawal of large numbers of employees for military service.

The trustees state that up to the end of last year, 770 former employees of the railway were or had been on leave of absence for service in the armed forces. Of this number, 85 have been honorably discharged, chiefly because of

Red Cross Sets $24,000 As War Fund Goal Here

The quota for Arlington in the forthcoming drive will be $24,000, over twice the quota assigned Arlington last year, Edmund L. Frost, local chairman of the Red Cross War Fund announced this week.

Mr. Frost said, "The tremendous increase in our quota for this year gives some indication of the scope of the work which Red Cross has

It is my sincere hope that many residents of the town, particularly those who have members of the family in the services, will come forward and volunteer to help as solicitors.

"If we can get enough people, the work of solicitation should not be too difficult; and it is our hope that it will be possible to assign the work so that no one person will have to make more than ten calls."

Citizens who are willing to help in this worthy cause may leave their names at Arlington Red Cross Headquarters, 673 Mass. ave. (ArL 6540).

The Drive will begin March 1. Red Cross War Fund Headquarters will be at 675 Mass. ave., adjoining the regular Red Cross Headquarters.

School Children Step Up Strong Pace Set At Start Of Fourth War Loan Drive — Wage Earners Again Urged To Back Victorious Allied Forces

Following a conference held yesterday forenoon, Arthur J. Mansfield and Harrie H. Dadmun, co-chairmen of the Arlington War Finance Committee announced that they are confident that at least 60 percent, or more than $2,000,000, of Arlington's quota in the Fourth War Loan drive had been reached.

While official figures available at State headquarters of the War Finance Committee are considerably less, the local co-chairmen feel certain that bonds already purchased locally will bring the total to date above the $2,000,000 mark. Several days are necessary before all purchases are cleared through the State headquarters.

200 Appeals Made For Coal

More than 200 emergency cases have been handled by the local Emergency Solid Fuel Agency, of which Robert L. Reid is administrator, since the agency was set up, it was disclosed this week.

In practically all cases, requests for an emergency allotment of coal were bonafide. Mr. Reid revealed, however, that many are under the false impression that they can obtain hard coal by appealing to the Fuel Agency, when soft coal only is obtainable. The Fuel Agency was set up by the selectmen to fill the needs of those who are unable to obtain any type of coal whatsoever, either hard or soft, and whose bins are practically empty. The coal shortage has made it necessary for some householders to use soft coal to heat their homes.

The trustees state that they believe there is a good public understanding of the conditions under which war time transportation is being rendered and thank the riders for their "sympathetic understanding of the conditions," and for their co-operation "in making less difficult the job of furnishing war time transportation."

The present year, say the trustees, will see a continuation, and perhaps an accentuation, of the difficulties in obtaining manpower, replacements, new equipment, repair parts and supplies.

HARRY T. FOX FURNITURE CO.TEL. ARLINGTON 4655*A REPORT ON WARTIME OPERATION

THIS report from the Boston Elevated Railway is addressed to all who are directly or indirectly affected by the operation of public transportation, which, in the past two years, has become an absolutely essential part of wartime activities in the Greater Boston Area. In reviewing 1943, we are thankful that the various tasks expected of the "El" have been accomplished. We were aided in the performance of our job by four favorable circumstances: the co-operation of the riding public; the ready response of men and women in Metropolitan Boston to our urgent need of operating help; the advantage we had of a railway system properly maintained over a long period of years; and a timely reconditioning of stored equipment undertaken in 1941 in anticipation of the shortages which developed in full force in 1943.

1943 WAS A CHALLENGE

When 1943 began we knew there were great difficulties ahead. The volume of passenger traffic was rising steadily. Throughout the summer months, when normally "El" traffic is lightest, the number of riders continued high. The already heavy load of rush-hour traffic between 5 and 6 p.m. was increasing almost to capacity. The over-all riding was heavy too. In fact, for the whole year, a new record for the number of passengers carried was established. The total cost of the service was bound to increase because of the greatly increased service being furnished and because of increases in taxes and in wages and in the cost of materials and supplies. The problem of maintaining track and equipment in the face of serious shortages of materials promised to become acute. We knew we would lose hundreds of employees to the Armed Forces, a loss which would require intensive recruiting.

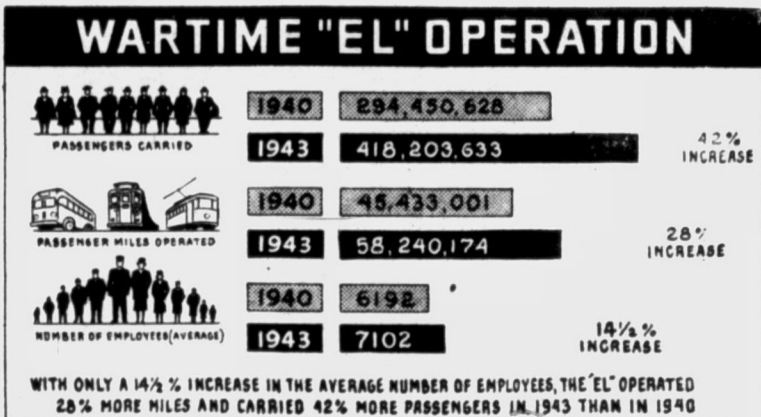

THIS IS WHAT WE DID

To meet these contingencies we needed help. And you, the public whom we serve, gave it. We asked you to avoid rush hours by riding, whenever possible, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.; to move up in the car or bus and not crowd around doorways; to wait for a less-crowded car or bus; and to have the exact fare ready when you could—all to help speed up transportation and allow us to take care of the heavily increased traffic.

Our repair and maintenance forces performed miracles in keeping our equipment up to the El's high standard of safety. The men and women there knowing full well that a breakdown or even a reduction in transportation service would have harmful reactions on the war effort. Our operating force handled the increased traffic with exceptional skill under trying conditions. In advertisements and posters we offered jobs to both men and women and the response was excellent.

Of Course We Did This, Too

Disposed of 4,963 tons of scrap for the war effort. Saved 4,691,832 tire miles and 124,041 gallons of gasoline.

And Here's Good News

We paid $1,301,191.50 to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for distribution to the cities and towns in the area served in proportion to the amounts which they have been assessed. We also paid to the City of Boston the 1943 Governor Square Extension rental of $228,614.42 which the railway would not have been obligated to pay if there had not been a sufficient excess in the reserve fund.

THE PROSPECT FOR 1944

Transportation of workers is, and will continue to be, a vital factor in the production of war materials. In 1944, our services to war plants, such as the Navy Yard and the Army Base, will continue to get priority. If many more of our married men with children are called to the Armed Forces there will be need of further employment of women to replace them. Greater effort will be necessary to obtain repair material and substitutes for material no longer available. In the maintenance of equipment, the El's high standard of safety will be upheld even if that should mean a curtailment of service. In 1943, we received 19 new buses and 30 new trackless trolleys, all of which are in use today. During 1944 we expect the delivery of at least 100 new trolley cars and of some more new buses. Passenger riding may have reached its peak in 1943, but uncertain factors such as additional restrictions in the use of gasoline, or shortages of rubber tires, could cause further increases in riding. A further cut in bus mileage under an O.D.T. order similar to the one received and complied with by the "El" in 1943, may come in 1944. Yes, 1943 was a tough year for all of us—but with all its promise of success, 1944 may be tougher still.

The Boston Elevated Railway says "Thank you" to the riders who changed their hours of travel; to the passengers who cheerfully put up with crowded cars and buses; and to all of our own employees who worked hard to keep the wheels moving.

With the continued co-operation of all, we will be able, in 1944, to furnish transportation service, when and where needed, to the limit of the railway's available capacity and within the restrictions of a war economy.

Fourth War Loan Drive

Still greater buying of United States War Bonds by individuals was urged this week if Arlington is to reach its $3,000,000 quota before the end of the Fourth War Loan Drive of Feb. 15.

Official reports from the Federal Reserve Bank show that Arlington has purchased $402,000 worth of War Bonds through last Friday. Of this amount $120,000 represented purchases of Series E bonds which are available for as little as $18.75 each. Since Friday, however, it is definitely certain that several thousand dollars' worth of bonds have been purchased not only here but in other communities.

Average sales for each of the 12 days of the drive thus far in Massachusetts have been only about $5,300,000—less than half the amount needed to reach Massachusetts' quota—it was disclosed Tuesday night by the State War Finance committee of which F. W. Denio is chairman. This State is lagging behind others in the nation, as a whole.

Total sales to individuals through Monday in Massachusetts represented only 24.7 percent of the state's quota for such sales. The Massachusetts committee pointed out when it urged every single wage earner who can afford to do so to invest in an extra War Bond during this drive rather than to depend upon large purchasers, such as corporations, to put the drive over. War Bonds not only offer a patriotic means of backing the attack, but are also a sound investment which will pay dividends.

First reports of "big money" subscriptions this week sent the nationwide campaign total to the one-third mark. Likewise, Arlington's total is expected to show a substantial jump as soon as large purchases are announced.

Meanwhile, the local campaign is progressing satisfactorily with scores of volunteer house-to-house canvassers busy making personal calls. Meetings of the local War Finance Committee are being held regularly under the direction of Harrie H. Dadmun and Arthur J. Mansfield, co-chairmen of the local drive.

Scouts To Assist
At a meeting held last Friday afternoon at the Arlington Five Cents Savings Bank, Donald Kidder and Harold Erickson, district committeemen of Sachem Council Boy Scouts were present to assist the committee in mapping out plans whereby Arlington Scouts will call upon every home and leave an application blank for a Bond, to insure that no one has been overlooked. Those who have not already bought a bond during this campaign are asked to fill out the application blank and present it with their money to any of the Arlington banks or other issuing agencies such as the two Arlington theatres and the Arlington Gas Light Company. The main objective here is to see that individuals buy at least $400,000 worth of Series E Bonds during the drive—this amount representing Arlington's quota, set up by the State Committee.

Schools Going Strong
Arlington school children—the junior "Minutemen" in this drive have even stepped up the fast pace set during the first week of the drive and last week purchased close to $20,000 worth of bonds at their respective schools. The sales in local schools have been little short of amazing.

Last week, the average sales per pupil at the Parmenter school, for instance, amounted to $21.45; at the Crosby School, $8.24; and at the Russell School, $7.46.

While most precincts boast a fairly well organized group of solicitors, more workers are needed especially in Precincts 4, 9, 11 and 13, it was announced at last Friday's meeting of the War Finance committee.

Total sales of War Bonds for the first month of this year in Arlington were $270,450, it was announced this week.

News of the Jap atrocities have led many to appreciate the seriousness of the bitter struggle being waged against fiendish foes and more are investing in Bonds to produce the weapons that will bring Japan to her knees. On the other hand, Allied successes in Italy have also encouraged purchases of Bonds to help bring victory over Germany that much closer.

Volunteers Busy
Reports of sales made by volunteer workers in precinct 14 are most encouraging. Charles E. Davis, precinct chairman stated yesterday. More than 30 workers have been assigned in this precinct, all of them backed by the Arlington Heights Improvement Association in their effort to put this precinct out front. Additional workers are reporting daily and it is expected that nearly 50 workers will be out soliciting over the week-end.

Precinct 14 volunteers include Margaret A. Arnold, Martha Barr, Forrest W. Barker, Roderick D. Bates, Hallet M. Beals, Chapman T. Beauregard, Edward C. Borg, Barbara L. Coburn, Mrs. Charles E. Davis, Mary A. Deasy, Joseph DiSilva, Bette Dubrow, Robert A. Dunning, Joseph Grano, Carroll B. Gustafson, Katherine Harrington, Mary Harrington, John A. Ivester, Daniel J. Kenney, Charles Maloney, John J. McHugh, Katherine J. Marshall, Ernestine Paulin, William G. Richmond, Olive Robertson, Elizabeth M. Schroeder, Mrs. Edward Slade, Ira Smith, Phyllis Stalard and Maurice D. Sullivan.

Most active on the canvassing committee are Arthur F.

Wells, head clerk in the office of the board of assessors; and Arthur R. Hayward of the Arlington Five Cents Savings Bank, who have spent many hours assigning volunteer workers to various precincts.

Invasion Show
The public will have its chance to see where its war bond dollars go in a three-day presentation of the Invasion Show this weekend at the First Corps Cadets Armory in back of the Hotel Statler, Boston. The Security Dealers of Massachusetts are sponsoring this show of war equipment, Feb. 5, 6, and 7, with the cooperation of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Marine Corps and Merchant Marine.

A purchase of a 25-cent war stamp at the door is the admission to this three-day exhibit that will be open from noon until 10 p.m. The display includes a full complement of the latest in military equipment including the bazooka, or "rocket gun," and ranging from the compact walkie-talkie to a barrage balloon.

To spur Fourth War Loan sales to individuals, a new "Blood and Bonds" trio has been added to the touring shows such as the New England Sector War Bond Cavalcade and the Hollywood Bond-bardiers now carrying their war bond message throughout the state. The "Blood and Bonds" personnel, all wounded war heroes, consists of 1st Lt. William C. Chesley, Army paratrooper of Concord, N. H., Coast Guard Motor Machinists Mate Robert J. Croak of Arlington and 19-year-old Billy Morris of Lynn, merchant marine veteran of the perilous Murmansk run.

WHAT ARE YOU WORTH?

You may think your worth depends upon the amount of money you have in the bank or the securities, or property that you own, but that is not the case.

Your real worth depends upon the service you render to your fellow men. Right now your real worth is being tested by the service you are giving your country in supporting the War Loan Drive now in full swing.

Our boys are giving their all in order that you may enjoy the American way of life. Certainly you have the right to do as you please, but, remember, somebody is paying the price for this freedom which you now enjoy.

Arlington has a fine group of people who are working diligently to make the War Bond Drive a success. They are proving their real worth. Ask yourself the question, "How do I shape up in this campaign?" If you are honestly doing your part, you may take pride in the fact that you are repaying some of the debt which you owe to society for the privileges you enjoy as an American.

A LESSON FROM SCOUTING

Will it be possible, after this war ends, to create a world brotherhood among men, dedicated to peace, without sacrificing love of one's own country?

Everyone acquainted with Scouting, which next week celebrates its 34th anniversary in America, knows that the answer is yes. The Boy Scout organization is almost worldwide. Patriotism and friendliness, and respect for other men's religious beliefs, all are part of the Scout Oath and law. The World Jamborees of Scouting were international gatherings which might well set a pattern for statesmen to follow.

Not everybody likes world brotherhood. Adolph Hitler, on coming to power, abolished Scouting in every occupied country. Yet it continues "underground." Someday, along with free speech, a free press and untrammelled religion, it will emerge from hiding.

It takes better boys today to build a better world tomorrow. The success of the Scout movement, in America and in other United Nations, proves that the principles of Scouting will triumph in the end. Scouting will continue to further participating citizenship and a world brotherhood in the years following the war.

Baptist Men's Class 'Backing The Attack'

The Fourth War Loan committee of the First Baptist Men's Class reported at last Sunday's meeting of the class that the following members are active in the current campaign: Walter Aisen, Albert Brown, Foster Brown, Clifford R. Hall, Arthur R. Hayward, John E. Mansfield, Raymond Morrill, Joseph Peterson, William Rule and Arthur Wells.

At a meeting of the executive committee at the home of the president, Wallace Gorton, it was voted to buy another War Bond from the class treasury.

Rev. Nathan W. Wood will address the class Sunday.

—The bi-monthly matinee bridge and whist party of the Arlington Catholic Woman's Club will be held at Legion Hall, Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 15.

Anthony Coscia Is Given Farewell Party

Mr. Coscia has a brother that is now serving with the Army Air Forces in England.

The NEWS OBSERVES

Advice from Germany through Swiss intermediary channels states that, effective March 1, mail addressed to American prisoners of war held in certain prison camps under German control will not be delivered to the addressee if it bears endorsements or slogans intended to promote our war effort. Further, that such mail will be condemned without the addressee prisoners being advised. These endorsements include such as "For Victory," "Win the War," and other of like character including postoffice cancellations. Reading "Buy U. S. Savings Bonds Ask Your Postmaster," "Buy War Savings Stamps and Bonds," as well as postage stamps having patriotic themes as "Win the War" and "For Defense." This is further confirmed through information sent the American Red Cross from representatives in Switzerland.

Postmaster Patrick J. Connelly announces that the term "prisoner of war" also includes "civilians" interned in Germany. He has instructed all employees to extend patient and sympathetic consideration to those who send such letters or parcels and invites such patrons to bring their problems to the postal service with respect to such mail.

Rev. Laurence L. Barber has one of the earliest tulips which broke ground last Friday. This is almost exactly the same time of season in which his tulips appeared on the protected side of the house last year.

Don't ask your Social Security Board office for a statement of your 1943 earnings for income tax purposes, James T. Phelan, manager of the Cambridge field office requested today. The Social Security Board cannot help you because your employer's tax return will not have reached the Board in time to permit it to make available a statement of your annual earnings for income tax returns.

Mrs. Anna Buckley, rehabilitation chairman, and members of Arlington post 39, American Legion are to be congratulated upon the work they are doing to bring cheer to hospitalized veterans of both World Wars. Quietly, this group raises funds to provide cigarettes and candy for these "practically forgotten men" and to entertain them with card parties and dances similar to the one held recently at the Bedford Hospital. Because of the many complex problems and news stories coming out of World War II, little thought would be given to these mentally and physically ill veterans in hospitals all over the country were it not for groups such as the local Legion unit. No cause is more worthy of your attention.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Ware of 285 Gray st., announce the engagement of their daughter, Ernestine to Lieut. Robert A. Sands, U. S. A. A. F., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Sands of Bedford. Miss Ware is a graduate of the Modern School of Applied Art. Lieut. Sands attended Northeastern University before enlisting in the Army Air Forces. He received his pilot's wings at Stockton Field, Calif. and is stationed at Columbia, S. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Morrill of 48 Kenilworth road announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Charlotte Morrill, to Joseph Chandler Marshall, son of Mrs. and the late Dr. Joseph Chandler Marshall, of Atlantic City, N. J. Miss Morrill was graduated from Radcliffe College with the class of 1941, and did graduate work at Bryn Mawr College. Mr. Marshall was graduated from Cornell University with the class of 1940. Both are now employed in essential war work in Washington, D. C., where they will live after their marriage in the latter part of February.

Urges Returning War Veterans Not To Delay In Filing Claims

Servicemen discharged from the armed forces because of disability should lose no time in filing their claim with the United States Veterans' Administration. Alfred A. Doucet of 41 Hamlet st., told the Arlington Veterans' Rehabilitation Committee at a meeting in the hearing room of the Robbins Town Hall Monday evening.

Mr. Doucet, who has been associated with the Veterans' Administration for years, told of the properly qualified staff, including paid investigators, engaged by the Veterans' Administration, to handle servicemen's disability claims and other problems, thereby eliminating the necessity of establishing an elaborate and costly office for the same purpose in Arlington, in his opinion.

During the discussion period that followed, it was brought out that the local Rehabilitation committee, appointed by the board of selectmen, included a group of representatives entative citizens who would naturally take a personal interest in the welfare of returning Arlington veterans. This would be practically impossible at the main bureau of the Veterans' Administration because of the thousands of cases from all over the state handled by that body, it was argued.

It was agreed that the local committee could give invaluable assistance to returning veterans, serving as an outpost to the Veterans' Administration bureau, by giving advice, leaving the matter of medical examinations, etc., to the properly qualified and paid officers in the Veterans' Administration.

Charles L. Berg is chairman of the Local Advisory Committee which was set up by the selectmen at the suggestion of Governor Saltonstall to work in conjunction with the State Advisory Committee. Arlington already has more than 4,000 men and women in the armed forces.

Zonta Club Raises Fund For Projects

A white elephant auction sale with Mary T. Bunker as auctioneer assisted by Bernice Dodge, Katherine Purrier and Edith Lynch, netted a sizeable sum at last Thursday evening's meeting of the Arlington Zonta club in the Girl Scout headquarters. The money will be used for worthy projects.

The club recently voted $25 for the support of a Chinese orphan, $10 for the United War Fund, and voted to sponsor the Wing Scout troop of Arlington. Its regular project is the eye clinic.

A covered dish supper was served by a committee in charge of Alice Mortimer after which the business meeting was held with Della Norwood presiding. Dr. Helen Burke was welcomed into the club. Miss Carrie Hayden, honorary member, was also present.

Planning Ahead

With post-war planning now a common topic of the day, Arlingtonians who are not already familiar with it, will be interested to know that right here at home a special committee, appointed by the selectmen, is at work studying the need of capital outlay by the town for several years to come. Its objective is to recommend the spreading of appropriations for capital outlay in such a way that you, the real estate tax bill will neither take a sharp drop nor zoom skyward.

Known as the Advanced Programming and Planning Committee, this group was appointed in March, 1942. It is functioning on the following premises:

(a) That the primary function of the municipal government is that of providing public facilities and services.

(b) That the exercise of this function requires the construction and operation of such typical facilities as schools, streets, sewer and water systems, parks, protection of personal property, etc.

(c) That the funds expended for the building or expansion of these facilities are considered as "Capital Outlays."

(d) That public improvements are important in determining the direction and degree of community development.

(e) That the objective of long-range programming is to provide an orderly way for public improvement needs a number of years in advance.

The committee at last year's town meeting recommended investment of Town Funds in War Bonds to provide a back-log in future years. It further recommended the purchase of new equipment for various departments, with an eye to the future, to avoid the need of large appropriations for capital outlay all in one single year.

Hallam T. Ring is chairman of the committee.

Typical recommendations to be made at the coming annual town meeting will be reported in future issues of the NEWS.

CHANGING STANDARDS

Change in the American standard of living brought about by priorities and rationing were inevitable. But whatever sacrifices must be made to insure victory, we all know that we are helping to win what we must and shall win—a continuance of our democratic fellowship of freedom.

The high standards of service, so long maintained by this organization, have not been lowered. The restrictions in the use of construction materials has not prevented the making of beautiful, durable caskets of distinguished craftsmanship. We continue to provide appropriate funerals of fine quality at prices set by the families when they make arrangements.
